

Residence Life at Garrett-Evangelical

Garrett-Evangelical is unique in its ability to offer you a wide variety of residential housing options while you complete your education. Our apartments and residence halls are owned and operated by Garrett-Evangelical, and largely populated by Garrett-Evangelical students and staff members. We offer subsidized rates for students (let's face it – seminary is expensive enough without having to pay market-rate rents!), and offer multiple convenient locations on campus and in Evanston.

Interested? Let's take a look!

Old Dorm

Want to be close to the action? Enjoy community living? Like a vintage feel? Old Dorm is the place for you!

All Old Dorm rooms include access to a communal bathroom, with 4 persons of the same gender sharing a bathroom on each floor. Old Dorm residents have access to Loder Hall kitchen and laundry facilities, just steps away. Students are also just steps from the main building where most classes take place, and a short walk (about ¼ mile) from Lake Michigan, and just a little bit longer to downtown Evanston, the El, and many other amenities.

Old Dorm offers:

Suite-style living, including a fully-furnished, private bedroom and a fully furnished living area which is shared with one other student. Furnishings include a bed, dresser, and desk/chair for each person in the suite, with a sofa, two easy chairs, a coffee table and bookshelves in the living room.

Single living, including a fully-furnished, private bedroom. A single is furnished with a bed, dresser, desk/chair, bookshelves, and an easy chair. A great option for students seeking a little more privacy in their communal living.

Loder Hall

Interested in newly-renovated, eco-friendly living with all the amenities? Do you prefer a private room with access to communal living spaces, laundry facilities, and kitchen facilities? Want to be able to roll out of bed and into the dining hall to get your morning coffee without ever having to leave the building? You probably want to live in Loder Hall!

Loder Hall offers communal living spaces such as kitchens, TV rooms, laundry facilities, and prayer/study rooms that are only accessible to residence hall students. Loder is also home to Garrett-Evangelical's dining hall, the Food for Thought Café, which serves up hot meals on weekdays and to-go options for the weekend. Students can relax in the downstairs lounge area, playing ping-pong or having movie marathons when they have free time.

Loder offers the following room options: Double living, which enables students to save costs and enjoy communal living with one other student. Rooms are fully furnished with beds, wardrobes, dressers, desks, and bookshelves for two. Bathrooms are private to the room, meaning you'll only have to share your bathroom with your roommate.

Tandem living allows students a private room with a bathroom shared with one other person. This is a great option if you're looking to save a little money but still have a mostly private room.

Single living is our finest residence hall offering, with a private room and private bath. Most rooms include a double bed in addition to the other standard furnishings.

Our single rooms are great for students looking for the privacy of an apartment without the hassle of cooking dinner every night.
